Krayden Continues to Expand with a New Warehouse in Canada

DENVER — April 2011 — Krayden, Inc., a leading distributor of engineered materials, has opened a new warehouse in Toronto, Canada in an effort to better serve its Canadian customers.

The new warehouse is a key step in the company's strategic effort to continuously improve its customer service and support. The new warehouse location is the company's third expansion in the last two years.

NEW TORONTO LOCATION!

"With the booming solar industry and the supportive benefits offered in Canada, the expansion in Toronto was a natural next step for Krayden, Inc. We are on the front line working with customers and the new technology being developed in thermal management and conductive transfer. We are members of CanSia and fully support this growing market. Having a stocking warehouse centrally located will allow us to provide more cost effective and efficient service to support our Canadian customers."
said Wayne Wagner, President; Krayden, Inc.

Named Dow Corning Electronics Distributor of the Year 2008, 2009 & 2010, Krayden is a technical problem solving distributor, specializing in adhesives, sealants, coatings, solvents, various types of chemicals, solder and lead-free solder.
